⚠ DRAFT — 6/12 COMPLETENESS · FGA NOT FINALISED

v1.5 — Chart 2 rebuilt. The v1.4 genealogical tree rendered incorrectly — the 640×560 viewBox left only 3px bottom margin, causing clipping and distorted hierarchy in scaled rendering contexts. The chart has been rebuilt at 640×680 with proper margins, cleaner vertical rhythm, and no text baseline closer than 10px to its containing box. Pairing set unchanged from v1.4: Karlsson 87%, Elyounoussi 86%, Fischer 80%. Odgaard and Kulusevski remain demoted to mechanism reference on the foot/height filter.

Read this first — the file is still data-incomplete. Six of twelve core Tier 3 metrics fail the minimum 3-distinct-match sample rule. Match 3 (Tulsa) contains zero logged events. Every event in the log is tagged "Positive indicator" — anti-indicator re-tagging has not been performed, which materially inflates every metric average. FGA_v3_Final does not activate. No Tier 1 statistics, no COACH, no second scout.

What the file does show. Across the events that are logged, Fjeldberg displays genuine elite off-ball intelligence (OBI_S 8.06, OBI_P 8.33), elite transition behaviour (OMS 8.20), strong creative risk-taking (CRK 7.55), and a clutch record that includes a 96'04 stoppage-time winner. He scored four goals in eight matches from a wide starting position, and is having the best season of his professional career — 8 goals and 1 assist across all competitions in 2026.

THE DEFINING INCIDENTS — ANALYST QUOTES

- M4 53'21 (vs Las Vegas): "Positioning as a goal hunter in second post to receive the Lacroix cross. Goal." — scored 10/10 on RDS, 9/10 on CRS, 10/10 on OBI_T, 8/10 on STK
- M6 42'18 (vs Oakland): "Alone despite a thin line of 4 defenders, he receive the ball bring it in one touch and beat the keeper by composure... Goal." — scored 9.5/10 on OBI_S, 10/10 on DMA, 8/10 on MCS, CLM, CRS
- M6 34'13 (vs Oakland): "Excellent technical show on the left flank, joga bonito style to dribbling two defenders." — scored 10/10 on CRK and DRB
- M7 96'04 (vs Phoenix Rising): "Winning header at the last moment of the game." — scored 10/10 on CRS and SPI
- M5 12'27 (vs Phoenix Rising): "Excellent through pass for him but actually too lazy to speed up to catch the ball. Throw-in against." — scored 4/10 on OBI_T, 1/10 on DMA, 1/10 on MCS, 3/10 on DYN

The DMA / MCS / CLM cluster — the central concern. Across multiple matches, Fjeldberg is repeatedly scored low on decision-making, mental competence, and composure in the same incidents — moments when he receives the ball in a good position and either loses it or chooses the wrong option. This is not a single-match anomaly. The off-ball movement gets him into the right places. The on-ball work does not yet convert them at a professional rate.

Tier 2 — Composite	30%	✗ NOT COMPUTABLE	—
Tier 1 — Statistical	20%	✗ NOT PROVIDED	—

LOG context: USL Championship sits at approximately LOG 2.2–2.4. The indicative Tier 3 average of 6.71 at LOG 2.3 is a competent but not dominant return for a winger at that level. Classification band: AVERAGE to ⚡ VERY GOOD. The gap between the off-ball metrics (8.06, 8.33, 8.20) and the on-ball decision metrics (5.46, 4.75, 4.25) is the story.

5 · TACTICAL DNA PAIRING — FOOT AND HEIGHT FILTER APPLIED

The filter. Right-footed · 174–182cm · wide creator · box arrival + off-ball movement + transition. Foot and height are not stylistic variance — they determine receiving angle, body mechanics, and the entire cutting-inside mechanism. Odgaard (left-footed, 188cm) and Kulusevski (left-footed, 186cm) fail this filter and are demoted to mechanism-reference only.

The archetype the file describes. A right-footed 178cm Nordic wide creator — receives on the half-turn, drives inside on his right, arrives in the box on the blind side. Elite OBI (8.06 / 8.33), elite transition (8.20), strong creative risk (7.55). Weak decision-making (5.46) and composure (4.25) when the ball arrives in the final third.

Jesper Karlsson (AZ / Bologna / Lecce)	87%	PRIMARY
Mohamed Elyounoussi (Basel / Celtic / Copenhagen)	86%	SECONDARY
Viktor Fischer (Ajax / Copenhagen)	80%	TERTIARY
Andreas Schjelderup (Nordsjælland / Benfica)	78%	REFERENCE
Jesper Grønkjær (Ajax / Chelsea / Atlético)	74%	REFERENCE
Jens Odgaard (AZ / Bologna) — mechanism only	62%	DEMOTED
Dejan Kulusevski (Juventus / Tottenham) — mechanism only	58%	DEMOTED

PRIMARY — JESPER KARLSSON (AZ ALKMAAR / BOLOGNA / LECCE) · 87%

The strongest surviving match after the filter. Karlsson is a 179cm right-footed left winger — the closest physical profile to Fjeldberg in the set. He scored 46 goals in 123 appearances for AZ Alkmaar before moving to Bologna, then Lecce. His profile is defined by pace, technical skill, and elite finishing — a "versatile and explosive winger, able to play on both flanks" who "likes to cut inside from the left flank in order to move into the opposition box." That is the exact mechanism the Fjeldberg file describes.

FGA COMPONENT	FJELDBERG	KARLSSON	ALIGNMENT
Nationality region	Norwegian	Swedish	92%
Position	Winger	Left winger / either flank	95%
Foot	Right	Right	100%
Height	178cm	179cm	99%
Mechanism	Ghost runs + cut inside + box arrival	Cut inside from left + dribble + shoot	90%
Acceleration	SII_A 7.50	Elite — "explosive"	85%
Creative risk	CRK 7.55	Strong — shoots from distance	88%
Decision-making	5.46 (weak)	Mixed — crossing flagged	72%

Why 87%: Same foot, same height (1cm gap), same Nordic context, same cutting-inside-and-shooting mechanism. The physical and mechanism match is the strongest in the set. Why not higher: Karlsson's finishing is elite (46 goals in the Eredivisie); Fjeldberg's is not yet proven at that level.

SECONDARY — MOHAMED ELYOUNOUSSI (BASEL / CELTIC / SOUTHAMPTON / COPENHAGEN) · 86%

The exact-match candidate. Elyounoussi is Norwegian, right-footed, 178cm — Fjeldberg's nationality, foot, and height in a single profile. He is a wide creator who operates primarily on the left, cuts inside onto his right, arrives in the box, and has produced at Champions League and Europa League level for Basel, Celtic, and Copenhagen. He passes the filter on every axis simultaneously.

FGA COMPONENT	FJELDBERG	ELYOUNOUSSI	ALIGNMENT
Nationality	Norwegian	Norwegian	100%
Foot	Right	Right	100%
Height	178cm	178cm	100%
Position	Winger	Left winger / wide creator	93%
Mechanism	Ghost runs + cut inside + box arrival	Cut inside + dribble + create/finish	88%
Goal output	8 in 2026 (career best)	Consistent double-figures at Celtic	85%
Decision-making	5.46 (weak)	Consistent — European-level	62%
Age	27	31	72%

Why 86%: The only profile in the set that matches nationality, foot, and height simultaneously. Same mechanism — right-footed wide creator cutting inside from the left. Why not primary: Elyounoussi is 31 and his career is at a later stage. His decision-making and composure are also consistently stronger than Fjeldberg's file shows — the divergence sits exactly where Fjeldberg's development risk is highest.

TERTIARY — VIKTOR FISCHER (AJAX / MIDDLESBROUGH / COPENHAGEN) · 80%

Fischer is Danish, right-footed, 180cm — the filter passes on all three axes. Developed at the Ajax academy, a technical left winger who dribbles and creates. But Fischer's career stalled: he moved to Middlesbrough, returned to Denmark, and never fully realised his early potential. This is the cautionary Nordic right-footed winger reference. Same physical profile as Fjeldberg; a career trajectory that did not reach its projected ceiling.

REFERENCE — ANDREAS SCHJELDERUP (NORDSJÆLLAND / BENFICA) · 78%

REFERENCE — JESPER GRØNKJÆR (AJAX / CHELSEA / ATLÉTICO) · 74%

Danish, right-footed, 178cm — the filter passes. A direct, pace-based right winger. The divergence is mechanism: Grønkjær's game was built on top-end speed and direct running into space, not on dribbling or box arrival.

DEMOTED — JENS ODGAARD (AZ ALKMAAR / BOLOGNA) · 62% (MECHANISM REFERENCE ONLY)

The v1.3 primary. Fails the filter: left-footed, 188cm. A 10cm height gap and the wrong foot. Odgaard's mechanism — runs, fights, attacks empty spaces, supports the striker — is genuinely relevant to Fjeldberg's off-ball profile. But a left-footed 188cm wide forward and a right-footed 178cm wide forward do not share body mechanics, receiving angles, or cutting-inside patterns. Retained as a mechanism reference only. Not a pairing.

DEMOTED — DEJAN KULUSEVSKI (JUVENTUS / TOTTENHAM) · 58% (MECHANISM REFERENCE ONLY)

The v1.3 tertiary. Fails the filter: left-footed, 186cm. Kulusevski's ball-carrying, transition play, and creativity are relevant to Fjeldberg's OMS 8.20 and CRK 7.55. But the physical mismatch is the same as Odgaard's. Retained as a mechanism reference only. Not a pairing.

JONAS STENSRUD FJELDBERG — 178CM · RIGHT-FOOTED

Genealogical verdict. Once the foot and height filter is applied, the lineage narrows sharply. Fjeldberg sits in the right-footed 178cm Nordic wide-creator lineage — his closest mechanism match is Jesper Karlsson (same foot, 1cm height gap, same cutting-inside-and-shooting mechanism), and his closest exact-match profile is Mohamed Elyounoussi (Norwegian, right-footed, 178cm — the only reference that passes on all three axes simultaneously). Viktor Fischer is the cautionary case: same physical profile, a career that stalled. Odgaard and Kulusevski are demoted to mechanism references because the foot and height mismatch is structural, not stylistic.

7 · PHILOSOPHY FIT MATRIX

PHILOSOPHY	FIT	SCORE	RATIONALE
German / Klopp Wide Pressing	90%	9.0	Elite transition (OMS 8.20), strong pressing (INT 8.00, TAC 8.00), wide ghost runs
South American / Bielsa Vertical	87%	8.7	Vertical intent, wide off-ball movement, transition-driven
Dutch / Cruyff Wide Creator	82%	8.2	OBI_S 8.06, OBI_P 8.33 — spatial intelligence fits the Cruyffian wide-forward template
English / Ferguson Direct Wing Play	78%	7.8	Wide arrivals, second-post positioning — but decision-making below Ferguson's standard
Spanish / Guardiola Positional	62%	6.2	Weak DMA (5.46) and CLM (4.25) are incompatible with positional-play requirements

8 · UNBIASED DIAGNOSTIC: RISK VS. REWARD

POSITIVE FILTERS	CAUTION SIGNALS & GAPS
- OBI_S 8.06, OBI_P 8.33 — elite off-ball intelligence - OMS 8.20 — elite transition behaviour - CRK 7.55 — strong creative risk-taking, joga bonito dribbling - SPI 9.50, CRS 9.00 — elite in small samples 8 goals + 1 assist (2026 all comps) — career-best season 96'04 winner — clutch performer - INT 8.00, TAC 8.00 — defensive contribution 2024 USL Championship title — key role in first trophy	- DMA 5.46 — decision-making below professional baseline - MCS 4.75 — mental competence flagged - CLM 4.25 — composure under pressure flagged 6/12 video completeness — below threshold - Match 3 (Tulsa) empty — balance-check violation - All events tagged positive — anti-indicator re-tag required - No COACH score — 25% of Lars framework absent - No second scout — no blind cross-validation - Age 27 — developed player, not a prospect

The central development question. The gap between the off-ball metrics (OBI_S 8.06, OBI_P 8.33, OMS 8.20) and the on-ball decision metrics (DMA 5.46, MCS 4.75, CLM 4.25) is the entire story. If the decision-making is coachable, this player's ceiling is a Karlsson or Elyounoussi level wide creator. If the decision-making is structural, the ceiling is a USL-level wide runner who cannot step up.

Bottom line for the client. The evidence base is incomplete. Six of twelve Tier 3 metrics are below the minimum sample. Two balance-checked matches contain zero events. Every event is tagged positive, inflating the averages. This file cannot support a final FGA rating or a transfer recommendation. What it can support is a working hypothesis: Fjeldberg is a right-footed 178cm Norwegian winger at Colorado Springs Switchbacks with elite off-ball intelligence, genuine transition quality, and a career-best goalscoring output in 2026 — but with a decision-making and composure profile below professional baseline.
